ANNOUNCEMENTS THE AUDITORIUM.

The new schedule of all feature mo-tion pictures started yesterday after-noon and played to good business. The pictures are all interesting, clear and steady, and satisfied all who saw them. They will be continued all this week, with three changes, Monday, Wednes-iay and Friday, when The Fall of Troy nounced success which they scored when they were first exhibited here about a month ago. On Monday and Tuesday of next week the famous Euffaio and Pawnes Bill Great Wild West and Far East show will be shown. The pictures will reproduce the big show exactly as it is seen in the arena. They were taken this season and are of exceptionally good pho-tography. It is positively your last years of her life with her uncie, chance to see Buffalo Bill himself with late John D. Shea, of the Falis. the show, and you should not miss it.

INSUBORDINATE SOLDIER AT THE BREED

A superb military story is one of the features at the Breed today and entitled The Insubordinate Soldier This is another big picture triumph for the American Parke company and i produced with all the snap and ac-curacy characteristic of the cast. It deals with a post located in the far west, and included in one of the scenes is a thrilling holdup of the messenger despatched to bring to camp the pack-et of money for the regular payroll. The insubordinate soldier plans to cap-ture the funds and lay the blame on Lieutenant Mason. The holdup occurs as planned, except with the inter-vention of a young squaw whom Ma-son has befriended earlier in the story. She snatches the wallet with money and, unobserved, steals away with it to the post, where she secures assistance and rides to the side of the bruised lieutenant and brings him to the camp to safety. She refuses money for her bravery, but is won over by a military saddle which is given her by the commander in charge. This is a military spectacle and is su-The balance of the bill includes Blograph comedy and other sensational western films.

The Pepper Vine.

The most common and widely used of all spices is pepper. It is a native of the East Indies, but is now cultivated in various parts of the tropical belt of this hemisphere. The plant is a climber and has a smooth stem sometimes twelve feet long. The fruit is about the size of a pea and when ripe is of a bright red color. In cultivation the plant is supported by poles. In some localities small trees are used instead of poles, for the best pepper is grown in a certain degree of shade.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT ON BABY

"When my baby was two months old, she had exzema and rash very badly. I noticed that her face and body broke out very suddenly, thick, and red as a coal of fire. I did not know what to do. The doctor ordered castile soap and powders, but they did no good. She would scratch, as it tiched, and she cried, and did not sleep for more than a week. One day I saw in the paper the advertisement of the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, so I tried them at once. My baby's face was as a cake of sores. When I first used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I could see a difference. In color it was redder. I continued with them. My baby was in a terrible condition. I used the Cuticura Remedies [Soap and Ointment] four times a day and in two weeks she was quite well. The Cuticura Remedies healed her skin perfectly, and her skin is now pretty and fine through using them. I also use the Cuticura Soap to-day, and will continue to, for it makes a lovely skin. Every monther should use the Cuticura Remedies. They are good for all sores, and the Cuticura Soap is also good for shampooing the hair, for I have tried it." (Signed) Mrs. Drew, 210 W. 18th St., New York City, Aug. 26, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for free booklet on the skin.

THE MOTHER ISLE.

England:—the Western giant smiles And twists the spotty globe to and This little speck the British islep?
This but a freekle—pever mind it?—
He laughs, and all his prairies roll.
Each gurgling cataract roars and chuckles.
And ridges stretched from pole to pole
Heave till they crack their iron

But Memory blushes at the succer And Honor turns with smile deficant, And Freedom, leaning on her spear Laughs louder than the laughing giant—
An islet is a world," she said,
"When glory with its dust has blond-

And Britain keeps her noble dead Till curth and sens and skies are rended!" Beneath each swinging forest book.

Some arm as stout in death reposes.

From wave-washed foot to heaven-kissed brow.

Her valor's life blood runs in roses;

Nay, let our brothers of the West.

Write smilling in their florid pages,
One-half her soil has walked the rest.

In poets, heroes, martyre, segen.

Hugged in the clinging billow's clean,
From scaweed frings to mountain
beather.
The British oak with rooted grasp
Her slender handful holds together—
With cliffs of white and bowers of green.

And ocean narrowing to caress her, And hills and threaded streams between— Our little mother isic, God bicss her! —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

JESUS, THE CARPENTER. If I could hold within my hand
The hammer Jesus swing.
Not all the gold in all the land
Nor jewels countless as the sand.
All in the balance flung.
Could weigh the value of that thing
Round which his fingers once did

If I could have the table he Once made in Nazareth.
Not all the pearls in all the sea.
Nor crowns of kings or kings to be
As long as men have breath.
Could buy that thing of wood he made—
The Lord of Lords who learned & trade.

Yea, but his hammer still is shown
By honest hands that foil.
And 'round his table men ait down.
And all are equals, with a crown
No gold nor pearls can soil.
The shop at Nazareth was bare—
But brotherhood was builded there.
—Charles W. Sheldon.
